Monica Armani for Tribù Redefines Modernism with Cool Lightened Concrete

Disciplined, geometric precision defines the Tao collection of tables, crafted from refined lightened concrete to achieve an aesthetic that is distinctively modern. A revelation in balance and beauty, Tao features a slim, finely milled tabletop dramatically contrasted by its commanding base. The dining table has a central pedestal while the cocktail table's asymmetrical base adds quiet sophistication to any setting.

The iconic, exacting style of contemporary Italian architect and designer Monica Armani is exemplified in her Tao collection for Tribù, each curve and lateral plane an intentional, fascinating design element. Armani's fascination with the world of outdoor is realized in Tao, where design and formal aesthetics form a unique continuum between the inside and outside.

Cool, sleek, and avant-garde, Tao elevates concrete with a subtle terrazzo effect that is endlessly intriguing.
