WORK*in*PROGRESS

Eager to share the ins and outs of the design process, several of the interior designers selected for this year's Santa Barbara Design House & Gardens gave us an exclusive inside look into their plans. The SBDHG, presented by Joanie and Dennis Franz and the Junior League of Santa Barbara, will be open to the public from September 13 through October 7. For more information please visit www.sbdhg.com

1 Ann Sutherland | FRONT PORCH

"My goal was to respect the architecture: the Rising Moon seating collection is scaled to complement the columns that march down the façade. Placing only a few pieces on the porch references the past when family members gathered on the front porch to enjoy the breeze, peruse the vista and chat with passing neighbors."

2 Carla Lane | CHILDREN'S BEDROOM

"Getting to use Luludk's amazing new line of fabrics for children was incredibly lucky for me," says Carla Lane. "The embroidered animals were my inspiration for the children's room. They inspired the over the top Moroccan design of the daybed and cornice boxes."

3 Caroline Thompson | OFFICE,
GUEST BEDROOM & BATHROOM

"Architecturally, the house is classic with an East Coast vibe, so putting a Cabana Home/California twist on the interiors was essential to our team," says Caroline Thompson of Cabana Homes. "Our signature is the juxtaposition of modern and traditional, so you'll see antiques and one-of-a-kind items paired with contemporary pieces: elements that allow them to flow one to the other, subtly tying them together with a flair without being fussy."

4 Jaime Dietenhofer | GARAGE

"The garage is typically the most under-utilized space in the home. We wanted to make the garage an extension of the home's living space, while maintaining a free spirit with the design. It can be a place where all of your hobbies and interests come to life. We feel this space will truly create garage envy."

5 Katerina Tana | CABANA

"Our approach to the exterior spaces is to create intimate groupings that are sympathetic to the architecture, user friendly, yet young and fresh."

6 Linda Chase | PAVILLION, POOL, GARDENS & OUTDOOR KITCHEN

"Our approach to the exterior spaces is to create intimate groupings that are sympathetic to the architecture, user friendly, yet young and fresh," says Linda Chase. "We are introducing pops of color against creamy whites and grass greens with a touch of whimsy."
