Design Excellence

With a focus on artistic style and innovation for the 2022 selling season, entrants for the International Casual Furnishings Association (ICFA) Design Excellence Awards have lifted the level of creativity in products fashioned for outdoor living.

Across 11 clear categories of merchandise, offerings range from seating – with cushions and without – to chaise lounges, dining or bar chairs, dining or bar tables, shade products, fire pits, rugs and outdoor fabrics. New this year is the division of complementary casual products into complementary casual accents and complementary casual furnishings.

Although Casual Market Chicago has been cancelled for 2020, ICFA is moving forward to recognize this year's award recipients in an online ICFA Awards Gala presentation. All ICFA members and industry friends are invited to celebrate the announcement of each Design Excellence category winner, plus the Lilly Awards in Outdoor Furniture and Outdoor Accents along with the prized Lillian B. Winchester Best of Show Award.

The online evening event is scheduled on Wednesday, September 23 at 6:00 p.m. EST. The program highlights will also include the Apollo Awards, the Manufacturer of the Year and Sales Representative of the Year. 2020 Lifetime Achievement Award honoree Gary McCray, former president of Klaussner Outdoor, will be hailed with the traditional video tribute at the 2021 ICFA Awards Gala.
