OUTDOORS

We spend time outdoors for any number of reasons: rest, relaxation, fun, and exercise. And when it comes to work, employees today are increasingly asking for better-designed spaces to work outside—a place where collaboration and creativity can continue to happen. The products shown here are designed to make occupants of any outdoor environment happier and healthier.

JANUS et Cie: Forest Lounge Chair
Space 1420

This lightweight powder-coated aluminum lounge chair is the latest addition to the Forest Collection, and it combines a midcentury shape with an organic silhouette that makes it work in any indoor or outdoor space.

Gloster: Gem Tables
Space 1452

Like remnants of an abandoned temple or fantastically oversized jewelry, these coffee and side tables designed by Henrik Pedersen are each made up of 18 ceramic panels that are seamlessly bonded to create a simple but beautiful shape. They are available in either Bianco or Nero ceramic. gloster.com

Mamagreen: Babbo Curved Sectional
Space 1586

This sectional is perfect for not only nights around open-air fire pits, but also large rooftops and public spaces. Its scratch-resistant, powder-coated aluminum frame is upholstered in French waterproof faux-leather Stamskin and topped with comfy cushions in Sunbrella fabric.
