MARCH 2020

It's time to bid farewell to winter—or the day or two of chilly weather that we actually experienced—and usher in the springtime. There's no better way to welcome the season than with a bit of a design refresh, so here are several picks to get you started.

ROCK ON (TOP RIGHT)

Swapping out or adding new art to the home is a simple way to refresh a room, and Coral Gables artist Liv Dockerty has just released several new contemporary abstract pieces, including "I Get High with a Little Help from My Friends," shown right. Inspired by classic rock song lyrics, the paintings are distinguished by contrasting depths and vivid colors, evoking a dynamic narrative to be enjoyed in any area of the home. Retail: from $4,250. Liv Dockerty Art, livdockerty.com.

STRIKING SILHOUETTE ( FAR RIGHT)

This eye-catching vase looks more like a sculpture than a vessel for flowers, but when you add your favorite blooms, it'll add a whole new dimension to your kitchen – or any space for that matter. Retail: $129. BoConcept. 342 San Lorenzo Ave. #1110, 305-438-0005.

NATURAL BEAUTY (BELOW RIGHT)

Available in nine colorways, including Coral Red, the Forest lounge chair from JANUS et Cie brings a beautiful statement to any indoor or outdoor environment. With angular cut-outs that conjure a sweeping tree, it features a lightweight aluminum frame and an organic shape, making for a lovely dining chair or side chair, and a definite conversation piece. Retail: $944. JANUS et Cie, 2332 Galiano St. #101, 305-438-0005.

PERFECT FORM (BELOW)

Take cocktails alfresco to a whole new level with the addition of the Cala sofa from Barcelona-based outdoor furnishings designer Kettal. While it's rare to find seating that's both comfortable and visually arresting, this one is a clear winner. Retail: $9,916. Kettal, 147 Miracle Mile., 786-552-9022.

GOING GREEN (LEFT)

If you want to make a statement with a house-plant but you lack the ability to keep said plant alive, go for Pottery Barn's faux version of the design world's beloved fiddle leaf fig. Its glossy leaves, bendable branches, and vibrant hue make it look totally lifelike. Retail: $299. Pottery Barn, 358 San Lorenzo Ave. #2115, 305-569-9022.
