a sense of belonging

One of the more enduring office-design trends is personalization—i.e. giving employees the freedom to customize their own work space. Haworth answers this need with Belong, a collection of practical accessories and work tools distinguished by super-spare lines. Paper trays, tool cups, blotters, privacy screens, monitor arms, and worksurface-height power taps are among the sleek offerings. Swap them out to suit changing needs—or a whole new workstation: They're compatible with numerous Haworth systems. space 312

shaw sees the light

Stars shimmering across an inky sky, car high-beams flickering across a freeway at night, shards of sunshine reflecting off a glass-and-steel facade—such are the visual impressions that sparked Shaw Contract Group's Light carpet-tile series. The color and scale of the four patterns—which range from kinetic stripes to the near-solids of Applied—coordinate for maximum design flexibility. For a 300-yard minimum, you can envision your own Light show: Customize the hues or enlarge the format to 18 by 36 inches. Made with Eco Solution Q fiber with 45 percent recycled content and featuring a recyclable backing, the tiles are PVC-free, can be installed via a low-VOC system, and are Cradle to Cradle Silver Certified. space 10-167 and 8-4110

buzzi's been busy

Oh, the irony: The buzz about BuzziSpace's inventive new collection is deafening, but the acoustically savvy line is all about establishing quiet confines within a dynamic open-plan office. The aptly named BuzziSwitch is a system of lightweight, modular elements that can be reconfigured to suit myriad needs and moods: stools, felt dividers (shown), U-shape upholstered units that double as seat backs and side tables, etc. For more scoop on the line and its designer, Sas Adriaenssens, turn to page 4. space 8-6050

work it real good

Don't wait: Create. Introduced at last year's NeoCon, this casegoods office platform from Three H Furniture Systems now offers a new slim-line pull, metal frames with colored-glass doors, a luscious mocha-walnut finish, and a full variety of wrap-around work-surface shapes. Choose from 30 standard colors of laminate and 47 fabrics from Guilford of Maine, Maharam, or Momentum. Four edge styles keep everything sharp, while the new aluminum-accented under-work-surface paper-management sorters keep track of all your creations. space 339

Something's missing in this outdoor seating range, and it turns out the omissions are deliberate. Almost everything is pierced with a pattern or aperture—a stylistic conceit that also abets rain drainage. A quartet of circles slices the fiberglass-reinforced polypropylene seat of Oyyo, in five colors. Linear openings stretch across the powdercoated-aluminum form of the Civic park bench and Rion chair, the latter available in 12 colors. Bands of positive and negative space bend in the Ara chair's polypropylene body. Random geometrics burst through the diecast powdercoated-aluminum shell of Twin, in 12 colors plus a custom color-blocking finish option. And there's almost more air than chair in Roxy, whose electrostatic-powdercoated-aluminum frame is slung with synthetic fiber.
