JANUARY
2016

A woman in a blue coat and dark pants is walking on a large, textured, metallic sphere. She is barefoot and has her arms raised, touching the surface. The sphere is highly reflective and has a complex, crystalline texture. The background is a similar textured surface, creating a sense of depth and scale.

Synergy can take partners to new heights. Interior Design's annual Hall of Fame emphasized that truth with a group of inductee pairs: husband-and-wife teams John Cetra and Nancy Ruddy of CetraRuddy Architecture and Primo Orpilla and Verda Alexander of Studio O+A; the Ippolito Fleitz Group's Peter Ippolito and Gunter Fleitz; and finally Roger Thomas, whose longtime collaborator is casino magnate Steve Wynn. Proceeds from the gala, sponsored by Kohler Co. and held at New York's Waldorf Astoria hotel, went to benefit the Council for Interior Design Accreditation and Alpha Workshops through a donor-designated grant by DIFFA: the Design Industries Foundation Fighting AIDS.

"I LOVE BEING WITH THE BEST IN THE PROFESSION—PLUS THE AMAZING MANUFACTURERS AND VENDORS AND THE CLIENTS EXCITED ABOUT DESIGN"
