

LOS ANGELES

luxe.

interiors + design®

$ 9.95 A SANDWICH PUBLICATION | LUXE SOURCE®

0 74808 03333 1
NOV/DEC 2016 | DISPLAY UNTIL 01/09/17

In the outdoor living and dining space, two Jahus et Cie lounge chairs flank a teak root table from DAO to create a striking vignette that suggests the interplay between the polished and organic elements in the home. Sheltered from the elements, the area is intended to function year-round.

For the covered living and dining area, Walker opted for furnishings that were stylish and did not read as outdoor pieces. However, her choices, such as a dining table by West Barnstable Tables and the Janus et Cie dining chairs and sofa, strike a more rustic tone. Landscape designer Kathleen Ferguson incorporated several water features into her concept for the property. Paysage executed Ferguson's vision, installing the landscape, Below, left: Pots of succulents top a Janus et Cie table on the loggia, a covered space that offers homeowners Wanda and Scott Aurich, avid entertainers, the perfect spot to host gatherings.

Below, right: Hinchman selected the loggia's Loloi outdoor carpet, while the Janus et Cie sofa is from the Aurichs' existing collection of furnishings.

The homeowners worked with Allen Di Donato, of Di Donato Associates, the original architect of the home's plans, to create a layout that emphasizes indoor-outdoor living, as seen here in the covered loggia.