MARKET

128 MATERIAL
The freshest outdoor fabrics take their cues from the hours that make up a dreamy summer's day.

138 TREND
Four foreign restaurants are dishing out the most inspired designs of the season.

146 SPOTLIGHT
We unpack an elevated batch of around-the-world accents that softly juxtapose the crates they arrived in.

THE LOOK

156 KITCHEN + BATH
Whether near or far, a few of our favorite hotel kitchens and baths invite you to stay awhile with interior details worthy of home.

170 THE REPORT
From Marrakesh to Shanghai, Luxe offers an all-access pass to the most-happening destinations for global design.

2017

JULY/AUG

PRODUCED BY LISA BINGHAM DEWART AND OLIVIA LAMBERT

A generous umbrella shelters the dining table and chairs, all by Janus et Cie, in the garden—a favorite spot for alfresco entertaining. Landscape designer Cheryl Kellough of Sage Garden Design planned the gardens. Alfonso Paez of Paez Landscape also contributed to the gardens.

Below, left: In an outdoor seating area just off the family room, succulents grow in a pot on a Janus et Cie table.

Below, right: To highlight the sculptural tree behind the barbecue and bar area, Kamenstein hung handwoven Mexican rattan lights from Inner Gardens on the branches. During the day, they are an artistic element, and at night they lend a soft glow when illuminated.
