PALM paradise

“We wanted this to look like a buffet yet function like a kitchen,” says designer Scott Sanders, of paneling the appliances to make them disappear in this Palm Beach oasis. The hood above the grill was covered in a striking custom woodwork design, which lends to the overall elevated feel. Sanders maintained the same colors, materials and finishes throughout the loggia for a sophisticated scheme. scottsandersllc.com

INTERIOR DESIGN / JAMIE DRAKE AND

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE / JANICE PARKER,
JANICE PARKER LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTS

The designers collaborated with landscape architect Janice Parker on the outdoor living room, where a hedge of hydrangeas line the back of a Janus et Cie sofa topped with pillows touting Perennials fabric. Pulling in the blue of the Hudson River are a mix of cocktail tables from Sutherland and footstools from Walters Wicker.

Opposite: The gracious property includes a large outdoor area and pool house, which Leifer helped to update alongside building project manager Franklin Campoverde. Janus et Cie's Slant lounge chairs and Olympia urns mark its chic entrance.

Below: "I'm a classicist at heart," says Leifer—a confession evidenced by his decision to customize Côté France's Jacob chairs into counter stools in the sleek, two-toned kitchen. Lighting the scene are a set of RH Clemson pendants.

“THE HOUSE HAS BEAUTIFUL,
UNOBSTRUCTED VIEWS. I WANTED
TO PULL IN THAT OUTSIDE COLOR.”
