Right: For an informal dining area that opens to the outside, Shintaffer opted for a round BDDW table and simple woven chairs from Janus et Cie "to provide an ease of circulation," she says. General contractor Chris Huggins and his team created the custom cedar ceilings.

Opposite: BDDW counter chairs pull up to the kitchen island, which is of cold-rolled steel, topped with a composite stone countertop from Grandy Marble & Tile. Superior Stucco Services did the home's plaster work. The rift-cut white-oak cabinets are the work of Northwest Custom Interiors. Albert Lee supplied the appliances; the KWC faucets are from Best Plumbing.
