

INDULGE

Miami Herald

JUNE / JULY 2017

SUMMER ISSUE!

NEW ONE-PIECES AND JEWELRY

FATHER'S DAY
Jeff Conine leads our team
of Miami all-star dads

+ Special Section: Top Lawyers

indulgence

By Claudia Miyar

“I had that familiar conviction that life was beginning over again with the summer.” In that line from The Great Gatsby, F. Scott Fitzgerald captured the myriad possibilities and delights that summer provides. When temperatures climb to their just-bearable highest, when children have nothing but free time, and when the days are long and our calendars wide open, we must make the most of these life-affirming summer months. Gather around a game that presses the buttons of nostalgia and design. This Foosball Table from Janus et Cie encourages real interaction — not through emojis and “Likes,” for a change — over a steel-frame table that comes in either stainless steel or painted white, red or black. Hand-painted aluminum players are available in customizable colors, and each order comes with seven balls, two replacement players and a protective table cover. Designed for indoor or outdoor use, it is the kind of summer toy that gives you a feeling that life is beginning again. $11,164. Janus et Cie, 3930 Northeast Second Avenue, Suite 106, Miami; 305-438-0005; janusetcie.com.