Take it outside! Design showroom Janus et Cie recently debuted its spring/summer 2015 collection and, per the brand's reputation, the offerings in the line are stylishly appointed for indoor spaces yet durable enough for outdoor environs as well. The new lineup includes more traditional pieces, like wicker chairs and wooden tables suitable for a French countryside home, but it also takes a turn toward the avant-garde with three psychedelic chairs-the Noodle, Dreamcatcher and Dragnet-that demand attention. Made from weaving metal as if it were straw, they make perfect perches for any cool courtyard or pool deck. Let's face it: Torturous heat or not, you're going to be outside this summer. If you've got to swelter, why not do it in style? 3930 NE Second Ave., Miami, 305.438.0005, janusetcie.com -Ray Dennison
