HOSPITALITY EXPERIENCE & DESIGN

PIERO LISSONI • MOB HOUSE – SAINT OUEN • THE IVENS – LISBON

1. Point Long Island

"My goal with Long Island was to make it as desirable and well finished as a piece of indoor furniture, with a similarly detailed design," explains French product designer Christophe Pillet on the intention for his new collection for Spanish manufacturer Point. "I sought to create the feeling that these pieces have always existed." Straight shapes and slim lines define the silhouette of Long Island, a modular collection of outdoor furniture comprising an armchair, a sofa and a chaise longue, which adapt to fit each space. The series seeks to become a new classic and consists of 13 pieces that are complemented by three tables with an aluminium structure.

3. Janus et Cie Kyoto Alu

Janus et Cie has reimagined its interior collection, Kyoto, for exterior use. Rigorously engineered in powder-coated aluminium, Kyoto Alu offers the allure of rattan while also being built to endure the elements. The collection draws on its name and inspiration from Kyoto, a city with a rich craft culture. Like its sister collection, the handcrafted appeal, generous proportions and distinctive patterns of the range are elevated by plush cushions; however, unlike its exclusively lounge predecessor, Kyoto Alu includes a scaled armchair. Offered in Lava and Limestone, Kyoto Alu coordinates with Janus et Cie's Amari, Wing and Vino collections.

4. B&B Italia Borea Sunbed Lounge

Borea, the outdoor collection designed by Piero Lissoni in 2021, has been enriched by the arrival of two new sun loungers: Borea sunbed and Borea sunbed lounge. Made from a curved aluminium tube frame, the Borea sunbed lounge is available in two versions: chaise lounge and sofa, both of which feature a large reclinable back. The chaise lounge has an elongated, welcoming form suitable for one or two people lying or reclining, and by lowering the back, the sunbed becomes an island with multiple uses. The same is true of the Borea sofa, with construction and structural features that are suitable for the pool, the lawn or even the terrace.
