For an ethereal presence after dark, Twist Production's Mia Serata lanterns come in three-, five- or eight-foot versions. From $300, twistproduction.com

Timeless with a twist, the Fibonacci Alba chair by Janus et Cie features a classic wicker weave and dramatic curves. $2,210, janusetcie.com

Living Large

When it comes to poolside decor, bigger is better. Sculptural loungers, oversized fire pits and bold colours make for a patio with all the stylish sophistication of a five-star resort BY MATTHEW HAGUE

Tennis rackets of the 1920s and '30s inspired the elegantly shaped aluminum frame and cushions of Gandia Blasco's St. Tropez sofa, by Munich-based Stelan Diez. $6,330, gandiabrasco.com

At-home cabanas are the next big thing, and Dedon's City Camp collection is the ultimate backyard escape - available as a daybed or covered garden swing. From $19,940, dedon.de

Despite its soft indoor look, Italian designer Paola Lenti's boldly hued Picot pouf is made of all-weather polystyrene stuffing and a crocheted rope cover. From $950, paolalenti.it

Even when it's not lit, the gas- or propane-powered Miso firebowl, handmade in Toronto by design studio Palotorm, is a graceful centerpiece for the patio. $3,200, palotorm.com
